

WANT TO BE IN ATHLETIC CONTESTS

SONS OF EMERALD ISLE WILL PREPARE FOR CONTESTS NEXT YEAR AS WELL AS OTHER NATIONS—GERMANS WILL BE IN LINE, TOO.

What must have been clearly an oversight by members of the Regatta committee was the failure to invite a tug-o-war team composed of Irish to take part in the nationality contest. It is to be hoped that next year the scheme of having an international tug-o-war will be extended and take in the brothers from the Emerald Isle and also the people here who have German blood in their veins.

All day long yesterday there were a number of Irishmen whose hands were itching to get a two-inch rope and have a tug at something. They wanted to do something to show that the brawn of old Ireland was ready to stand together as a team and defend her honor in a tug-o-war contest. For the love of Robert Emmet, Parnell and Sir Thomas Lipton, they would have rallied under banner and stood the chances which govern athletic contests and abided by the results; all they wanted was a chance. Seeing the other nationalities with their flags and organizations only whetted their appetites for a contest and next year they will be in the field with a team of some sort to show the athletic prowess of the nation which has contributed more wit and humor, coupled with pathos, to the world's history and literature, than any other country.

The same may be said of the Germanic people. They also wish to be recognized and next year it probably will be so. Men with Teutonic blood in their veins wish to assemble under the colors of Germany and pull in a tug-o-war.

GAMBLING RAID.

A Poker Party Rudely Broken up by the Sheriff's Officers.

Yesterday morning at 5:30 a raid was made on a draw poker game at the Weinhard Saloon, 303 Astor street, and seven players arrested. When the officers reached the place the seven men arrested were seated at a table and each had chips and money in front of him and a lively game was on. The chips, pot money and cards were confiscated and will be held as evidence in the case. The men were lodged in the county jail charged with gambling and yesterday morning appeared before Judge Goodman and were placed under $50 bonds each and $25 cash being considered by the judge as equivalent to $50 bonds, the men were liberated on deposit of $175 cash to guarantee their appearance on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The names of the men arrested are: F. Leatherman, R. Cake, A. Okla, A. Sipe, Lampman, H. Miller and Guy E. Fuller. The raid was carefully planned by Sheriff Pomeroy, so much so that when Deputy Sheriff McLean, with a posse entered the place, the gamblers were taken unawares and did not make any attempt to escape.

WOMAN IS RESCUED FROM DROWNING

THOMAS SPENCER AND CHIEF FOSTER OF THE FIRE DEPARTMENT, RESCUE MRS. JACOB REIFEL FROM THE COLUMBIA RIVER.

Although falling 20 feet from the Lur-line dock into the Columbia River and hanging onto a slippery piling for 15 minutes in an exhausted condition, Mrs. Jacob Reifel of 700 Franklin avenue, now owes her life to her presence of mind and strength of nerve. She was rescued from her perilous position by Thomas Spencer and Chief Foster of the fire department, who happened to be in the fire engine house at the foot of Tenth street and heard the lady's cries and rushed out, securing a boat and going to her rescue.

Mrs. Jacob Reifel was near the edge of the dock in front of the grandstand built for the Regatta crowds and in some unexplainable way misjudged the distance and fell into the river. Her cries attracted a great many to the spot but in the dark and confusion they could do nothing for the woman whom they believed to be drowning. And drowning she nearly was, too. On striking the water Mrs. Reifel struggled to one of the slippery pilings and held on, meanwhile calling as loud as her fast failing strength would allow for help.

Her cries were agony to the helpless people on the dock, but they reached the ears of Thomas Spencer and Chief Foster. They quickly secured a boat and making their way in the dark guided by the faint cries they soon discerned a dark figure just above the water and clinging to the piling. They reached the woman just as her strength was failing her and in another moment she would have slipped back into the water. She was helped into the boat and taken to her home.

Mrs. Reifel was in a very weak condition and it was feared last night that the shock to her nerves will cause her to be ill for a short time.
